

Corne (crkbd/rev1) – Kiron's Layout

3x6+3 split keyboard · 6 layers · bottom row mods

Hold a bottom row key for the modifier, tap for the letter.

MO(n) = hold to activate layer n · DF(n) = switch default layer to n

Layer 0 – Base (Cyan)

Left = chords · Right = vim arrows · MO(4)+MO(3) = Layer 3 · ⌘⇧V = paste & match style

Layer 5 – System & Media (Red)

Activate: DF(5) from Layer 3

BOOT flash	RGB Tog	Mode cycle	Hue+	Brt+
		Hue-	Brt-

⚙ - dim	⚙ + bright	⏮ prev	⏮ play	⏮ next
Mute	Vol-	Vol+

DF(0)	DF(0)	DF(0)
-------	-------	-------

RGB slimmed to 6 controls · media + screen brightness fill the freed space · all three left thumbs return to base

Legend

▽ = transparent (falls through to layer below)

∅ = no-op (dead key, nothing happens)

▨ = layer is active from this key (held)

Brt = brightness (value) Hue = color Mode = cycle RGB effect

BOOT = enter bootloader for flashing Tog = toggle RGB on/off

⚙ -/⚙ + = screen brightness ⏮ ⏮ ⏮ = media prev/play/next

Bottom row mod-taps (Layer 0): hold for modifier, tap for letter.

On transparent layers, bottom row mods fall through from Layer 0.

RGB settings (brightness, saturation, effects) persist across all layers.

Only the hue changes per layer.

36-key migration (in progress)

Goal: drop the outer pinky column on each side (3x6+3 → 3x5+3).

Outer-column base keys are already re-homed so nothing is stranded:

Tab, Esc → Layer 1 · \ → Layer 2 · ' and " → Layer 2

Left/Right Shift → bottom-row mod-taps on Z and /

Layers 1-5 are now clear of the outer columns (Layer 5 RGB was rebuilt onto inner keys, so the outer-column RGB Toggle/Twinkle blockers are gone).

Still to relocate before switching to LAYOUT_split_3x5_3:

Base layer outer columns (rebuilt when the macro changes).
